

Emergencies vs. Non Emergencies

An emergency involves danger to human life or property.
If it isn't an emergency, it is still okay to ask for help, just don't call 911!

Have your child name the picture and state why or why not it represents an emergency.

broken body part – can't move part of your body or a lots of bleeding

(A stranger invites you or friends/siblings into their car –
offering candy, etc.)

fire extinguisher
(Something is on fire!)

smoke alarm
(You hear the smoke alarm
sounding and you smell or see smoke in the house.)

fire (You see fire coming from a neighbor's house or your house.)

burglar (You see someone breaking in to your home or a neighbor's home to steal.)

Mean Dog
(You see an animal biting someone.)

Car crash
(You witness an accident or you are in an accident)

bandaid
(small scrape or cut, little or no bleeding)

burnt toast
(It is black and smells up the kitchen.)

bar of soap
(accidentally falls into the tub water or we run out of soap)

sock
(You can't find your other sock or you have a hole in your sock or your sock gets wet.)

doll or toy
(It's broke! Or Your sister won't share with you.)

drink
(You accidentally knocked it over and it spilled all over the carpet.)

Emergency!

(There is danger to human life or property - Call 911!)

Not an emergency...
