Roll and count the number of dots on the die. Place that same number of Little People in a house (plastic, box, or clipart).
Roll a second die. Place that same number of Little People into the second house. Compare the two families.

Me on the Map by Joan Sweeney Have two game boards, filled with pictures of houses. Create playing cards with different numbers of houses on them – some with 1 house, some with 2, etc. through the numeral 5. Have your child pick up a card, count the number of houses, and then place that same number of heart erasers on top of the house game board.

Take a walk through your neighborhood.
Talk about where other friends live, landmarks near you, and where your house is located. Also talk about the city you live in. Make a simple map of your neighborhood just a few streets and houses). Have your child help locate your house and place a heart sticker on it.
